

Brief introduction about Dr. Thomas Dahlem

- Today's Director Manufacturing Engineering at Volkswagen India Private Limited in Pune; in this function he is responsible for the planning and erection of Volkswagen's new plant at Chakan, Maharashtra
- Education as electrical engineer at the Technical University of Darmstadt, Germany
- 1996 he started his career at the Volkswagen AG as PhD student in research and development at Volkswagen's headquarters in Wolfsburg, Germany
- 1998 he stepped on to product management at Volkswagen, Germany
- From 2001 Executive Assistant to the CEO of the Volkswagen AG, Prof. Dr. Ferdinand Piech
- From that position he changed to Volkswagen's subsidiary, the Audi AG, to Ingolstadt; there he was responsible for the product management of the new TT model, launched in 2006
- As Director Manufacturing Engineering in Pune since June 2007